

Lewis

Lewis was born on April 14, 2015 in Missy Marie's Treasures and Collectables in Ladysmith, VA. He is one of 5 kittens born to Patches, a stray cat taken in by the owner of Missy Marie's, Michelle McGuire. Lewis' mother, Patches, passed away from complications from heartworms, but not before she weaned all 5 of her offspring.

Lewis was adopted by Cynthia McCarthy in June of this year. Lewis is one very lucky kitty and the McCarthy family quickly fell in love with him.

Cindy reports: "He loves rolling around the floor in a paper (not plastic) bag, he is so small, all you see is the bag rolling across the living room floor when he is in it. Also, Heather will sit on the floor and she will do little jumps and wave her hands and he will jump right after she does and wave his two front little paws up, it is hysterical and adorable. Of course, Lewis and I have the attack/play with the hand time every morning and night, he loves hugging and biting my hand (not hard). He also has a grand time jumping in my garden bath tub which has a huge mirror next to it (part of the wall) and looks at himself and tries to bat at the kitty in the mirror. Lewis loves it when a cell phone screen lights up, he will paw at it and in turn, he hangs up on people.
